OGIO BOOSTS SPONSORSHIP OF MAPLE LEAF JUNIOR GOLF TOUR

VANCOUVER, B.C. – (March 2, 2010) - OGIO, the leading global manufacturer of performance gear bags and packs, has increased their long-time sponsorship of the Maple Leaf Junior Golf Tour (MJT), Canada's only national junior tour run exclusively by Canadian PGA Professionals.

The Maple Leaf Junior Golf Tour enters its 12th season of helping junior golfers develop their game through competition this year. The organization hosts more than 50 events across Canada, including clinics, tournaments and international qualifiers for competitions in Australia, Thailand, the U.K. and the USA.

Junior golfers will be able to win great OGIO gear at MJT tournaments in 2010, ranging from duffels to backpacks to apparel. "OGIO has been a sponsor of this program basically since inception," said Murray Poje, Canadian Golf Professional and Executive Director of the MJT. "They have stepped up with even more support this year which is fantastic. OGIO product greatly appeals to our young players, and this sponsorship helps grow the game of golf."

The OGIO collection includes an extensive line of golf bags, back packs, snow, skate and surf packs, school packs, motocross bags and hard goods, messenger bags and other active gear. For more information, visit www.ogio.com.

The MJT tees off its 2010 schedule at Morgan Creek Golf Club in Surrey, BC, on April 3rd and 4th. Alumni of the non-profit program include Chris Baryla on the PGA Tour, Nationwide Tour players, Canadian Tour players, several Canadian National Champions and many Regional and Provincial Champions.
